Experience

- 1 year experience working as a Junior Developer at FGX Studios .In my role as a Junior Developer, I gained valuable experience working on multiple client websites. This involved handling both frontend and backend development using PHP for connecting to CMS and databases, as well as PHP and JavaScript for frontend tasks. I collaborated closely with clients to understand their needs and implemented functional and visually appealing websites. On the backend, I developed efficient server-side logic and worked with databases. On the frontend, I used PHP and JavaScript to create dynamic user interfaces. This experience enhanced my skills in project management, collaboration, and full-stack web development.

Summary

I started my coding journey back in high school with the help of FreeCodeCamp , Code Academy and other resources out there on the web .I know my work as you can see with the projects I have uploaded on my GitHub account illustrating my knowledge .I have a passion for Tech and, The joy of always learning, which springs from the nonrepeating nature of the task. While constructing the program you constantly expand your understanding of both the problem and the solution. In addition, there is almost no limit to what you can learn to improve your craft – languages, algorithms, methodology, tools, frameworks.

Now currently employed at FGX Studios as a Junior Developer.

I am fit for this position because I am constantly always learning , I will be able to change my approach with every coding problem I encounter .I am a persistent person ,I work well with others .
